- Operate interviews on overtaking, hiring, informing and training personnel as well as on personal issues, incl. ensuring the resulting measures.
- Develop HR work within the enterprise.
- Work on special topics and tasks.

Eventual support:

- Coordinate and process operative HR management for tariff and management employees within a defined area of responsibility, incl. Working Time Management.
- Maintain the personal data within local systems independently.
- Hire personnel, considering the ideas and interests of the company and its management areas.
- Elaborate HR development concepts, advise employees and their leaders on development paths (subject, leadership) as well as steer and ensure HR development and training measures.
- Design and perform qualitative and quantitative HR planning measures, e. g. salary planning round, bonus round, comparative reviews, HR forecasts etc., incl. corresponding reporting.
- Participate and support the HR controlling.
- Support, work and steer on HR projects and special topics, according to personal qualification and experience.

Your qualifications

You bring along following qualifications:

- University / University of Applied Sciences Degree in Economics (optionally: with focus on Human Resources and/or Labour Law) or a similar qualification, e. g. certificated apprenticeship in Economics (if applicable with additional qualifications, e. g. Economist, HR Specialist).
- Long-term experience in (operative) HR work.
- Experiences or specialised knowledge in Concept or Project management.
- Very good knowledge in Windows and MS-Office.
- Practical experiences with SAP-HR systems preferred.
- French and English are mandatory, German is an advantage.
- High measurement of independency, operability and responsibility in work as well as of the ability to solve problems.
- Flexibility and high performance.
- High communicational skills as well as customer orientation.
- Planning and organisational skills.
- High measurement of motivation, commitment and initiative.
- Ability to team work above average.
- Confident and friendly appearance, ability to enforce and discretion.
